

Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 2, line 11, with the following rewritten paragraph:

--However, no currently available digital cameras can attain to select the generation method of inspection data according to the recording method of image data. If the currently available digital cameras are arranged to enable the selection of the generation method of inspection data according to the recording method of image data, it is necessary to notify an inspection device of the generation method of inspection data. In addition, it is necessary to notify the inspection device of a location of data for which inspection data is intended.--

Please add the following new paragraph after the paragraph ending on line 2 of page 21:

--If the currently available digital cameras are arranged to enable the selection of the generation method of inspection data according to the recording method of image data, it is necessary to notify an inspection device of the generation method of inspection data. In addition, it is necessary to notify the inspection device of a location of data for which inspection data is intended.--

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 2, line 22, with the following rewritten paragraph:

--Further However, the currently available digital cameras are capable of neither notifying the inspection device of the generation method of inspection data, nor

Appl. No. 10/669,289

Paper dated May 11, 2007

Reply to Office Action dated February 12, 2007

notifying the inspection device of the location of data for which inspection data is intended.--